

Whilst travelling through Nha Trang, be sure to stop at the Louisiane Brewhouse for a refreshing home-brew, which can be enjoyed either lounging around the pool, on the beach or while enjoying the view in the restaurant. All beers at Louisiane are brewed onsite, using high-quality ingredients imported from the United States, Australia and New Zealand. There are five different beers to choose from (two are rotated throughout the year).

The ginger ale is the essence of Vietnam, served in a glass with fresh ginger and lemongrass. The witbier is a classic Belgian beer with coriander and orange flavours. The dark lager is a complex beer with earthy roasts and chocolate notes, balanced with New Zealand Willamette hops. The classic Czech pilsner-style beer is a crisp, refreshing lager with balanced Saaz hop bitterness. Finally, the red ale is a robust and fruity beer which brings together four kinds of malted barley and three kinds of hops, resulting in a warming floral finish.

To accompany your favourite brew, try the fresh seafood menu, made up of the freshest oysters, clams, crabs, lobsters, mussels and shrimp, all available served in a variety of ways from live to deep-fried and everything in-between. The rest of the menu is equally generous, including a host of Vietnamese specialties like seafood hotpot, and Western treats like original gourmet pizzas, chicken fingers, and bangers and mash. There's an extensive selection of traditional Japanese food, including, maki, fresh sashimi, hot pots and a variety of combination lunch sets. Desserts are all made in-house, and while they include great treats for the kids like tutti frutti ice cream and banana split sundaes, the pastries are must-tries.

The Brewhouse is big enough to host large groups, and no one minds if you end up falling in the welcoming aqua pool, fully clothed, after a few home-brews. With its fantastic beachside setting, the only drawback to the Brewhouse is that you may find yourself spending your entire visit to Nha Trang there. However, you won't regret it.
